Principal's Message

As part of the events surrounding Black History Month, Brooks DeBartolo Collegiate High School hosted an art contest on Saturday, February 24th to recognize African-American contributions to American history. This year the theme was "Celebrating African American Pioneers." Our school submitted an entry for the first time in this competition in which the county's charter schools participate. Our school stood out with the work of Javier Hernández from 8th grade who was awarded first place in the middle school category! Javier created a portrait of Frederick Douglass in pencil and white charcoal on gray paper. Frederick Douglass was chosen because we were interested in how he believed reading was the key to freedom. His efforts to learn to read and write gave him the opportunity to defend the reality that we are all people, valuable and worthy. This piece attempts to capture Frederick's courage and his determination to be free. Congratulations Javier!
