Principal's Message

Wimauma Community Academy hosted a Story-Sharing Circle session, where parents of young children could share their experiences of raising them in Wimauma.

Parents got to know each other and connect through conversations, sharing stories, and having a meal together. Through a participatory process, everyone shared what they love, what's challenging, and what they might change, given their experiences of raising their little ones in the Wimauma Community.

One of the facilitators during the meeting was a former scholar of ours, Tania Garcia. Her title with this program is Resident Community Builder. A quote from Mr. Cesar:

"These are the type of students who give me hope. We need to keep on believing that the seed that we "plant" could germinate into something good for our society."
